This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. Don't be ashamed to let us know
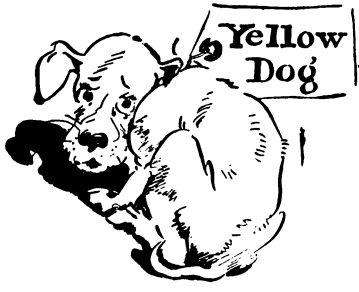
Why you tried matrimony,
For others brave the under-tow
For reasons quite as funny;
We give these little facts away,
Perhaps it is a treason,
Don't marry in an off-hand way,
Be sure "there's a reason!"

THE AUTHOR



Yellow
Dog

STUNG !

He was a gentle and sensitive chap,
He married the forceful Miss Howe,
He wanted her sympathy, did the poor yap—
He has everyone's sympathy now!

PUBLIC

SHE KEPT HER WORD.

Maud hung onto straps in the Subway and "L,"
No man ever said "Take my seat!"
She swore that she'd marry the first one who did—
The next day her husband did meet!

Skiddoo

SKIDDOO!

When your wife jams her hat on and packs up her bag
And says "I shall go back to mother!"
If you sniff she will say, "Just for that I will stay!"
One excuse is as good as another.

V.M.F.

SHE LOOKED SO DOCILE!

John Quincy tho' kindly and gentle, declared:
"The man must be master, by gum!"
But his outlook on life, is just what his dear wife
Lets him peer at from under her thumb!

PUBLIC
ATLANTA

NOT A QUITTER.

Wilhemina's bridegroom failed to show up at the church
So she yanked the driver off the wedding hack,
And married him in lieu of John, who'd left her in the lurch
For she would NOT send the wedding presents back.

EVER KNOW IT TO FAIL?

"I never could marry that kind of a man!"
Said Miss Sue of a fellow named Sid—
So of course the gods heard her and laughed when they saw,
'Twas exactly the kind that she did!

HOW WAS SHE TO KNOW?

The reason sweet Alice got married to-day—
Sweet Alice, so prettily blushing,
She hadn't the faintest idea that the gent
Had another wife over in Flushing.

A TONIC.

Miss Luella Gloaming was naturally glum,
So she married young Grouch, the recluse;
For she says when she's sad, she just looks at his face—
Then she can't help but laugh like the deuce!

WHY THEY MARRIED.

This couple before you are husband and wife,
He looks sorry and just a bit harried;
It took a mere two-spot to scare him for life,
At least that's the reason he married!

EXPLAINED AT LAST.

Mr. Pinhead was worth eighty millions,
Miss Nothingbutt had eighty-two;
Why do cash and spondulicks get married?
Spondulicks and cash always do!

REALLY SHE DID.

You never can guess why she married this man,
There's no use the matter to mince,
She married him merely because he had hair
Like her lost Pomeranian, "Prince."

FATE.

The rector got married to Annabel Gauze,
The rector was gentle and good;
He made up his mind that he'd marry because
She had made up her mind that he should!

THE SUN DO MOVE.

Petkins wed her Nobby Boy
In the year of our Lord knows when—
He was once the mold of form
And she was stylish then!

A MATTER OF TASTE.

He married her because she didn't swagger like a man,
Nor did she stand with feet apart, toes in,
She wasn't a "good fellow," thickly coated with a tan—
She was merely lovely, really feminine!

PUBLIC

STRONGER THAN MERE LOVE.

The bond is a strong one that couples this pair,
A case in which Jill found her Jack,
This strong binding tie is the joy they both share,
In ripping their friends up the back!

IN ROUND FIGURES.

Now here is a couple who seem of one mind,
What on earth made them think they'd agree?
Why, he didn't care for the lean scraggly kind,
And it's funny, but neither did she!

AKIN TO LOVE.

She had been upon the shelf,
For same reason he'll divorce her,
Pity—this time for himself!

Both poor as Job's turkey and not overstrong—
Hold a three dollar job the man couldn't—
We are forced to conclude that they married because
There was every good reason they shouldn't!

NO FALLING OFF.

Paul told her lovely fairy tales when she was but a child,
She loved him far above all other men.
Tho' they've been married quite a while, the tales he tells her now
Are quite as good as those he told her then!

WANTED A CHANGE.

Young Twentyperr looked carefully before a wife he took,
His wife would have to know a thing or two,
He wanted to be certain that his spouse knew how to cook
The way his mother didn't use to do!

IT'S ONLY TOO TRUE.

"That woman married!" I hear you exclaim,
Your knowledge of people is small,
There is always some chump who will whisper "Je T'aime!"
While real peaches are left by the wall!

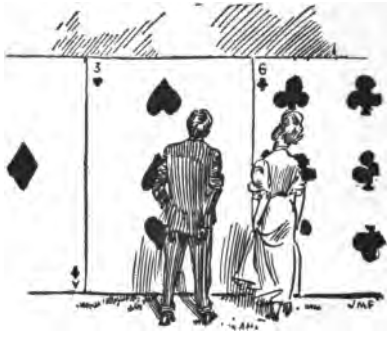
HIGH FINANCE.

Jonas Granitt married and he knew that he was cute,
A Mrs. Drudge, his housekeeper, no less,
For he owed her two years wages—you'll admit he was astute,
Now he doesn't owe her anything, I guess!

U.M.F.

SHE GOT TIRED OF IT.

They are married and Maudie looks quite worn out,
It's no wonder—he pestered her so,
He proposed forty thousand and ninety-six times—
Every time but the last she said "No!"



SIDE-TRACKED.

These people wed in self-defense,
All social life they missed,
They found themselves outside the fence,
For neither played bridge-whist!

THE BUTTERFLY AND THE AENEMONE.

Mr. Butterfly Flitter was handsome and gay,
Why, he'd ne'er given marriage a thought,
But he dallied too long by a flower one day,
And before he could flit he was caught!

In the unexpected awful things he said—
On her remarks he could depend, they never caused alarm,
So as they both were pleased, they wed!

Mary thought her husband was the finest anywhere,
He was the satisfaction of her life.
He knew too much to ever say, "Why don't you dye your hair?"
Or praise another woman to his wife!
